The problem

Using a digital solution such as Regioneo can be frightening because it seems to disrupt working habits. Introducing new tools to your day-to-day work requires willingness. However, using such a solution can actually save you time!

The solution

With the help of the Regioneo team, you will learn how to use the solution after we have set up your website and catalogue step by step with you. It is designed to be intuitive and easy to use.

Regioneo can then be easily integrated into your day-to-day work thanks to the dedicated application available on tablets and smartphones. With it, you can receive your orders and messages live. You can also switch off the order service at any time to avoid being overwhelmed.

Additional functions make your work easier, such as the ability to see all the products ordered over a given period and organise your harvest accordingly.

Benefits

The main benefit will be the time savings Regioneo can bring you by combining orders and messages in a centralised application.

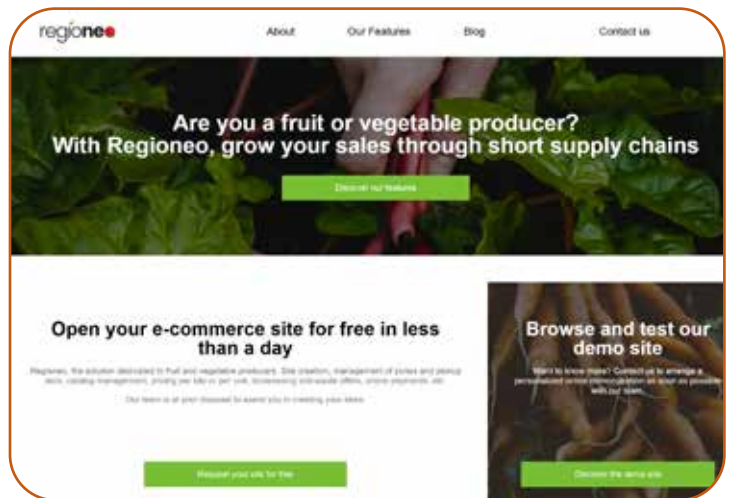

Customer relations are unified, as is the management of your catalogue availability.
